

The Consumer Bankers Association (CBA) is challenging Indiana's telephone privacy regulations. I am happy with the way things currently exists and see no reason the regulations should be amended so I can be solicited.